■ ■ Introduction

Designer Institute of Interior Design is an Institute of Design

The vision envisaged by the organization of Designer Publications Kerala Pvt. Ltd is taking shape through the Designer Institute of Interior Design [DiiD]. The Institute is all about educating and equipping students, professionals, learners in the field of Interior Design.

Interior Design is a fast developing discipline. Its importance lies in the fact that the interior use of an enclosed space is changing frequently due to the fast changing life styles. Thus the need of an interior designer will increase in the coming years.

Designer Institute of Interior Design situated at Ravipuram, in the heart of the City of Cochin, established in 2011 has already become a leading design Institute of Kerala State.

In the process, DiiD aims to create design professionals and entrepreneurs with the sensitivity, the sensibility and the ability to eventually contribute in a fully aware and insightful manner, to societal needs.

The Prospectus provides comprehensive information on all programs at DiiD.

Currently we are the only accredited interior designing training institute offering the KITCO – ASSOCHAM Consortium Diplomas in Interior Designing. At the outset we would like to explain that these Courses are not simply about the theory of interior design. These are intensive practical Courses developed to provide you with the professional skills required to succeed as an Interior Designer. Learners of both the Courses will get adequate knowledge about the management practices required to become an entrepreneur in interior design also.

- KITCO is an organization for monitoring industrial projects of small, medium and large scale. Human Resource Development Programmes undertaken by KITCO include entrepreneurship development, skill up gradation, skill certification, certification of vocational courses and placement services. It's a reputed Govt. of Kerala body.
- ASSOCHAM : It is an apex body of more than 300 Chambers and Trade Associations in India and enjoys the patronage from all major industries in the country. It is one of the Indian bodies held in high esteem all over the world.
- Consortium means an association of two or more individuals, companies, organizations or governments (or any combination of these entities) with the objective of participating in a common activity or pooling their resources for achieving a common goal. KITCO and ASSOCHAM have joined hands to design, conduct, examine and certify quality courses and training programmes in different areas where there is a felt need for qualified human resources, in India and overseas.
